

PROGRAM LISTING #123 SEPTEMBER 25 - OCTOBER 8, 1967

KRAB, 107.7 MC (SEATTLE); KBOO, 90.7 MC (PORTLAND)

TELEPHONE: LA 2-5111

THESE BROADCAST STATIONS ARE NON-COMMERCIAL, LISTENER SUPPORTED, and yearly contributions of $20 (reg.), $12 (min.), and $6 (9 mos. students), for which you receive our bi-weekly.

We--we serenely refer to Ourselves as we, sublimely aware that we are not the humble, self-effacing Editorial Anon., but verily the Papal-Imperial Plural--lolling about our fantastically quaint Wolfstair, idly wallowing in the homage of our associates, but we were bored. Some infinite somewhere must hold something more, most. Newspapers, television, Emmett Watson calls US, our political career, cocktails here, canned heat there, even fresh fish from the Farmer's Market, our gloop-gloop radio empire--all, all are ours to dandle-dawdle. Yet,--Ah, We! something is amiss.....

We allow the blazing lazar of our fancy to tiptoe in exquisite torpor...snap, crackle, popple!...hurtling throo bathorial somewhere-of-the-nowhere, plumb-ing limitless Boatlegoozian Voids where cosmic stars collide with soundless shriek, we were. Tails of comic comets and subtle cataclysms of dying suns, (obedient of our whim, voluntarily and without pay), unite to write the cabalistic symbols: L...O...R... Shall we take skywriting lessons? Plolets notorious for wanting money. Tedious Babbits.

What if a nice pilot would teach us to write our hallowed Name for Free, and become a subscriber, too? What if Up was Down? What if Seattle were turned wrongside out--so that all the wallswere inside, and all the miserable mungy lives within the Ugly Ugly Ugly blds. were exposed for us to see? Why can't you comprehend us, we would cry, you dismal lemmings who grub and grovel and stumble mute to your fat wives and Dachshunds? Hear we, ye FOC, ye horrid lucre-loving broadcasting Industry, give up your dismal ways and and come charm we. Earn our approval. Hold street dances for maniacs in sacred shrines, mutter cloacal phrases in myriad foreign tongues, create intolerable tortures for the ear and winking slyly, pronounce it Good: Do these things and overcome many more and you too shall know the bittersweet fulfillment of Ennui.

Answer Wo!

But no. Around abound but abound but ego-mondicants, trophies of footraces won over basket-cases, and reverberating silence. There's nothing for it but to potter out to take our frugal lunch in the noisome plane which will deposit us either in Majorca or the sea; it matters little, so long as the caviar is Bosphorus.

Woe Is We!

But wait! Creak of uncoiled wheels, urk of rusty pedals: our old antagonist, the Little Boy astride Tricycle! Elfin features contorted in gargoyle ambiguity, (like Goya doing a hobbit), he raises on high infamous pitching arm and lets fly a missile--the familiar plastic toy souldier--which takes us flush on the wallet and we drop like a pound of mashed potatoes.

"Wait," we cry, an intere sting tangle of arms and legs, "Don't go! come in and get to know us! We'll teach you to contribute, donate, and run mystic machinery. Do you know any funny anecdotes?"

"It's better this way," he snarls, "if I got to know you, I'd bring an army, and it wouldn't be plastic."
